STILL MORE EXCITEMENT.

There was a very exciting sale at the Grocers House Friday, they having a fine lot of tobacco and baskets out of these crops sold as follows: W. D. Galbreath, Washington, one $60, Durrett & Beltry, $50; but to cap the climax and break the Mayville market and state record remained for C. E. Galbreath & Washington of Maysville, at $66.00. The lively bidding between Stanton Cliff representing the Reynolds Company, T. B. Duke for the American and J. C. Burwell for Liggett & Myers Company for these good ones brought smiles to the fortunate owners.

Mr. L. N. Robertson of Elizaville, was in this city Friday on business.

DEATH OF JOHN A. OSBORN.

Mr. John A. Osborn, a well known farmer and citizen of the county, died at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mason Henson, in the Abigail, Robertson county, neighborhood, Tuesday morning at 2 o'clock after an illness of grip complicated with heart trouble, aged 67 years 9 months and 24 days. The funeral services were held at the residence of Mr. John Owens Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Davis, pastor of the Two Lick Baptist church. Interment at the Henson burial ground. Deceased is survived by four sons, Charles Osborn of Iowa, and George, Benjamin and David Osborn; and one daughter, Mrs. Macon Henson of Abigail. He is also survived by a brother, William T. Osborn of Bridgeville; a sister, Mrs. Thomas W. Woodward of this county, and a half-sister, Mrs. Rose Kelley. Mr. Osborn was a quiet, good citizen and highly regarded by all who knew him.

SERIOUS CHARGE

Barry Renaker, Prominent Stock Dealer of Cynthiana, Arrested

Charged With Arson in Connection With Burning of Lewisburg Turkey Pens

Friday morning about 11 o'clock, Chief of Police James Mackey and Deputy Sheriff Mike Brown pinned Harry Renaker, prominent poultry and stock dealer of Cynthiana, under arrest on the charge of having assisted in an arson case.

It will be remembered that during the first week of December that the large poultry pens belonging to Renaker located at Lewisburg in this county, were burned to the ground.

As the fire occurred at night and there had been no fire about the place for several days, the state fire marshal was summoned to the scene.

Former Fire Chief Edward Hite of this city, then deputy fire marshal, was given the task of unraveling the mystery that surrounded the burning of the buildings.

Evidence of the use of coal oil and other inflammable material was found and upon further investigation it was learned that within the last five years seven dwellings owned by Renaker had been destroyed by fire.

This knowledge caused the insurance companies to become more alert and after several days of thorough investigation it was learned that Ennes Williams, colored, of Cynthiana, who has worked for the Renaker Company, had on December 1 bought several gallons of coal oil at different stores in Cynthiana, and after gathering it into one shipment, had it expressed to Lewisburg as personal property; also, it was learned that he had purchased a pair of new overcoats.

By some expert detective work the negro, it was learned, had come to Lewisburg on the day of the fire and had been seen about the destroyed buildings and it was also learned that he had asked a farmer living near that place for a match, which was given him.

The footprints about the burned building corresponded with the shoes worn by Williams, who, in his confession, says that he was employed by Harry Renaker for the sum of $250 to set fire to the building at Lewisburg, Renaker saying that the reason he wished them destroyed was that they were a losing proposition and that he did not want to journey from home to attend to the business there.

Of the $250 promised, Renaker is said to have given him $20 as the first payment, promising to pay him when the deed was accomplished.

Williams went to Lewisburg and went to the building and poured five gallons of coal oil on some kindling and coal lying in the place; then he touched a match to the inflammable pile and left, locking the door. He came to this city, throwing his shoes away, as Renaker had instructed him.

As it was at a late hour that the building was destroyed, the time of the arrival of the negro in this city was close to the time that the first C. & O. train leaves for Cincinnati in the morning.

Before boarding the train Williams destroyed the overcoat that he wore, throwing it into the river. He then went to Cincinnati where he stayed several days, taking the L. & N. back to his home, where he was at the time of his arrest by Fire Marshal G. T. Heim and Officer George Dickey.

Upon his arrest he was brought to this city and after being put through the "third degree," he made a full confession to Chief Mackey and other officials. Renaker was implicated by Williams, it is said, in the confession. Realizing that the evidence of the negro would not convict Renaker, Chief Mackey and C. & O. Special Officer Thomas Stewart decided to trap him and get all possible evidence against Renaker.

Thursday night Detective Stewart, dressed in a suit of overalls, a corduroy shirt and with a red bandana handkerchief about his neck and his face begrimed with dirt, was placed in the cell next to Williams, who was told that Stewart was a dope crazed lubbo. By lying on the stone floor Stewart overheard enough of the conversation that went on between Williams Hams and Renaker, who had come to see Williams, as to make the case stronger against Renaker, and after Renaker had departed from the jail Stewart was taken from the cell and his story was told.

It was further decided that other evidence against Renaker should be secured, and on Friday morning, when it was learned that Renaker wished to see Williams again, Officer Stewart was again disguised and secered under a pile of mattresses and blankets in one of the empty cells in the hospital ward of the jail, where he remained undiscovered, although the two men made a thorough search of the ward before they started to talk. He overheard enough of the conversation of the two men to cause the arrest of Renaker, who was afterward released on $1,000 bond, Hon. A. D. Cole being his bondsman.

ADDRESS ON GENERAL LEE.

On Thursday afternoon the Senior history classes of the High School had the pleasure and honor of listening to a very instructive, interesting and entertaining lecture on "Robert E. Lee," given by Rev. R. L. Benn.

Rev. Mr. Benn presented a most vivid idea of the southern cause which is not often heard nowadays.

By his splendid and eloquent account of the life and character of Lee he fully convinced those present who had not already learned to love the great Confederate leader, and brought those who had to a state of adoration.

The Seniors all agree that Rev. Mr. Benn possesses an unusual amount of magnetism, and deem themselves fortunate to have heard such an accomplished speaker.

MR. SAMUEL PORTER

Death of This Well Known Citizen At His Home In West Second Street Saturday Morning.

Mr. Samuel Porter, whose illness has been noted from time to time in The Ledger, died Saturday morning at 4 o'clock at his home on West Second street. Mr. Porter had been in poor health for some time, and several days ago was taken much worse, from which he could not rally, and gradually grew worse until his death.

He was by profession a carriage builder, having followed this trade ever since young manhood. He was a splendid citizen, an ideal father and a loving husband, and will be sadly missed by his home circle.

Mr. Porter was 62 years old, and is survived by his widow and five children, Misses Etta, Ada, Mrs. C. F. Flat, Mrs. W. E. Smith, all of this city, and Mr. William Porter of Durant, Okla.; also three brothers, Mr. John Porter, the undertaker of this city, Mr. Horace Porter of Mt. Sterling, and Mr. Stanley Porter of Cincinnati, and two sisters.

Funeral from the late home Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Services by Rev. J. M. Literal.

D. HECHINGER & CO.

THE WHITE EXPOSITION AT HUNT'S

We were fortunate—we found many things, little and big, trifling and important, that helped us—things that have combined to make this Sale one of little prices, as well as new styles and ideas in under muslins.

NIGHTGOWNS

Soft, snowy materials, bows of blue or pink ribbon, fine embroidery, dainty laces, these are features of the new nightgowns at $1. And "a wonderful assortment" is no exaggerated phrase to use in describing them.

PETTICOATS

with flounces made of rows of narrow lace, embroidery ruffles, ribbon beading, and plain white pique with embroidered edge. Untrimmed petticoats too, with pin tucks above a generous hem. And prices very moderate—50c to $3.

VELVET CORDUROY

Corduroys are scarce even the more expensive qualities, and the lower-priced ones are almost impossible to get. So—with a great deal of pleasure, we announce a shipment of velvet corduroy, 33 inches wide, for the moderate price of $1.45 yard—quality and width considered. It cuts to splendid advantage in this width and is admirable for evening coats, as well as for Sport Coats. We are also selling it for Separate Skirts and for bodice gowns. Its texture, weight, serviceability and beauty make its uses much diversified.

Considerable ice is running in the upper Ohio, interfering with navigation.

THINGS YOU DON'T KNOW.

We of today often admire the knowledge displayed by our friends and our neighbors and occasionally we may entertain a slight conception of that which we ourselves possess.

But we are not prone to speak of or to admit of those things that we don't know.

For instance—

You don't know when the war will end.

You don't know which side will be the victors.

You don't know what conditions will prevail in Europe after it is ended. You may surmise, but you don't know.

You don't know what effect it will have on this country when Europe gets down to business again.

You don't know whether the end of this war will mark the beginning of a world peace, or whether it is but the forerunner of a greater and more devastating conflict which will be waged between the old world and the new—between a combination of European nations on the one side, and North, Central and South America on the other.

You don't know, in the event of such a war, whether the Americans would continue to be free and self-governed countries, or whether they would become mere overseas possessions of the kings and emperors of the old world. You may poo poo, and swell out your chest, and let the eagle scream, but you don't know.

You don't know what Congress will do in the matter of preparedness for this country. You don't know whether it will do anything at all or not—for, truth to tell, Congress is all muddled up and don't know itself, for it don't know what you think or what you know.

Faet is, brother, we don't imagine any of us know much of any thing about this phase of our national existence, for we have been too busy grubbing for dollars to give much heed to the present or future welfare of our country.

And, too, we don't know what the penalty of our indifference and neglect is going to be.

Now do we!

MIDWINTER TRADE.

As the newspaper man looks over his exchanges at this time of year, the strongest impression he gets is that of the enormous amount of advertising of midwinter sales.

From the big department store of some great city, down to the little dry goods shop at some country cross roads, "they're all doing it." It has become apparent to progressive merchants that it is cheaper to sell winter goods at a reduction now, than to carry them over until another year, paying interest on money invested, insurance, taking chances of style changes or deterioration of the stock.

It has therefore become one of the fixed laws of trade, that the public can get concessions in prices by buying at this time. But it is of very little use for a merchant to mark his prices down, unless he tells the public about it.

An unadvertised mark-down sale falls flat. If a merchant does not make some announcement of the concessions he is willing to make, the public would conclude that he was not making any, and that he preferred to carry his stock over to another season.

There is always a special class of trade waiting to take advantage of midwinter bargains. It consists of shrewd, economical people, who would rather wear old goods a few weeks longer in order to get the low prices of January and February. Whenever they pick up a newspaper in midwinter, they turn first to see what merchants have "come across" with bargains. The best offer gets their patronage, and they head direct for the store that makes it.

The latest issue of the Federal Reserve Bulletin, organ of the Federal Reserve Banking system, runs true to form in that it shows about 66 per cent of all the rediscount business for November to have been done in those favored centers, Richmond, Atlanta and Dallas. The same issue also contains a notice of an assessment upon the member banks to pay the cost of operating the system. Are Richmond, Atlanta and Dallas to pay 66 per cent of this assessment? Nay, nay Pauline. All the member banks, everywhere, will pay their little one-tenth of 1 per cent on their stock in the Reserve Bank to pay the cost of maintaining an institution which chiefly benefits Richmond, Atlanta and Dallas. Is the south in the saddle?

Business failures in 1915 were about 4,000 more than in 1914, but the total liabilities were about $56,000,000 less. This means that big concerns, dealing in war orders and otherwise benefited by the campaign prosperity of the moment, managed to avoid receivership—while the smaller manufacturer and the retailer whose prosperity depends upon the orders which his neighbors give him and upon their ability to pay for what they buy, had to go under. The "prosperity" of the country is, as Congressman Humphrey says, "local, spotted, temporary and spasmodic."

Washington became wildly excited the other day over a report that Postmaster General Burleson was to resign in order to try for the Senatorship from Texas. Burleson promptly denied the story. He may run for Senator, but he certainly will not resign his present job. The precedents are all against it. Franklin Roosevelt did not resign as Assistant Secretary of the Navy when he went into the Senatorial primary in New York in 1914. The motto of this administration, be it understood, is "Safety First."

The fact that a boy will tramp miles daily looking after his muskrat and skunk traps, does not mean that he would be able to skip down to the corner after supper to mail a letter for his mother.

After condemning employers for not letting their young men attend military camps, many people would decide to order goods of firms that are not tied up by having men absent on militia duty.

The farmer who used to hitch up a $35 horse to go to grange meeting and read a pessimistic paper on "Does Farming Pay?" now drives down for that purpose in a 1916 model automobile.

About now many people are pleased to find their judgment thoroughly vindicated, that it would have been impossible for them to keep any New Year's resolutions.

ITEMS FROM ALL AROUND

Mitchell's Big Hog.

(Cadia Record.)
W. O. Mitchell, who resides on the White farm four miles north of town, killed the biggest hog we have heard of a few days ago. The hog netted 654 pounds of pork.

Mules and Horses Scared.

(Owensboro Messenger.)
Joseph Slanett of Tylertown, Miss., who has been in the city during the last week purchasing horses and mules, leaves for his home tonight. Mr. Slanett states that suitable animals are very scarce throughout all the middle and southwestern states, due to the fact that the country has been drained by the European war.

Walks in Sleep.

(Paris Kentuckian.)
While walking in his sleep, J. T. Wagoner, 16-year-old son of Harvey Wagoner of Bourbon county, jumped from the second story window of his home Sunday night and in his bare feet and night garment tramped one mile in the lee and snow to the residence of Watt Kiser, and knocking on the door was admitted. He did not awaken until after his removal to his home. His feet were badly frosted and he is suffering from the shock.

Lots of Butter.

(Cadia Record.)
Within the last four or five weeks the grocery firm of Chappell & Cowherd, of this place, has shipped to foreign markets between 400 and 500 pounds of butter. They shipped two large boxes this week. If our farmers would only take more interest in this matter and see that their butter is prepared in a first-class manner (this could soon be made a great revenue producer for the farmers of Trigg county. This same firm is also preparing to ship a lot of potato onions from this place within the very near future.

January 22.

Dr. Francis Laehey Patton, noted theologian, formerly president of Princeton University, now retired at his birthplace in Bermuda, is 73 years old today. Dr. Patton has just completed a speaking tour of the United States. He has been in the Presbyterian ministry for fifty years. In 1881 he entered the field of education at the Princeton Theological Seminary, accepting the chair of relations of philosophy and science to the Christian religion. Five years later he accepted the chair of ethics at Princeton University, and in 1888 became the head of the institution. In 1902 he relinquished this office to become head of the Princeton Theological Seminary where he remained in active work until his seventieth birthday. Dr. Patton was born at Warwick, Bermuda, on January 22, 1843. He was educated in Bermuda and at the University of Toronto, and completed his theological studies at Princeton. He acquired international distinction in 1914 when he was a leader in the church prosecution of Dr. David Swing of Chicago, a Presbyterian minister, who was charged with preaching doctrines not in harmony with the creed of that church. After his half century of church and educational work, Dr. Patton has come to the conclusion that the sphere of Christianity is the present world and that the idea of a world to come is fast fading from the consciousness of mankind. This view he expressed last May at the Huxley semimillennial anniversary celebration at Rochester, N. Y.

Torrence V. Powderly, former labor leader, now chief of the Division of Information, U. S. Department of Labor, 67 years old today.

Joshua W. Alexander, Congressman from Missouri, 64 years old today.

Elbridge G. Snow, New York insurance president and clubman, 75 years old today.

Record Breaking Hog.

(Somerset Journal.)
Major S. S. Morrow killed a hog of his own raising yesterday which tipped the beam at 954 pounds. This is the largest hog we have heard of ever having been killed in this section of the state.

Big Owl Claws.

(Laurel County Herald.)
Mr. B. L. Miller of near Leafdale, recently exhibited to the Herald the claw of an owl which he killed one night while it was threatening his chickens. The claw was a very large one, and must have belonged to a fierce owl. The owl was of the "hootling" species and measured almost five feet from wing tip to wing tip.

An Old Timepiece.

(Jessamine Journal.)
The Shaker Bend correspondent of the Wilmore Enterprise has the following concerning an old watch: "B. F. Smart is the owner of a gold watch over 150 years old. It is a key winder and operates after the fashion of the old time clocks, with a chain over a drum. It came to Mr. Smart through the Crutcher estate, having been formerly owned by William Crutcher and his father before him. It still clicks off perfect time."

Verdict For Five Cents.

(Madisonville Hustler.)
J. F. Durham, suing Walter Crumbaker in county court, was awarded a judgment in the sum of 5 cents. Durham claimed that Crumbaker owed him a balance of $4.50 for services rendered as a timber cutter and sled for this amount. Crumbaker filed a counter suit claiming he had supplied timber to his employe to erect a small shack. This claim, when introduced in court, amounted to $4.85, and Durham was awarded judgment against his former employe in the sum of 5 cents.

One way not to keep office is to be conspicuously efficient. That isn't what the voters created offices for.

IS NOT STATESMANSHIP, NOT DEMOCRACY, NOT AMERICANISM.

(Chicinnati Enquirer.)

Well may the administration ask itself the question as to Mexico, "Where are we at?"

The people of the United States in every state of the Union are asking that not only as to Mexico, but as to every European country.

For three years now we have had the Democratic administration in full power, and, while systematically concealing from the people of the United States the contents of the reports of public officials, pursuing without obstruction its own methods as to Mexican affairs, and what are the results before the nations of the world today?

What in way of results have these methods brought to the people of Mexico?

What to the people of the United States?

What to the nationalists of all other nations who have looked to our government for order and protection?

From the dastardly murder of the Schachtman, Benton, down to massacre of the nineteen Americans last week, through all the long series of robberies, outrages and murders during the three years the present administration has looked after the relations of this country with Mexico, what American lives but regrets that our country has so signally failed to do its duty in the protection of peaceful citizens and helpless women and children?

Is there an American that breathes that is not humiliated and shamed by those orders from Washington which took our naval squadron out of the harbor of Tampico in April, 1914, leaving unprotected hundreds of American women and children in the city at the mercy of Mexican mobs, to be rescued at midnight by the German sailors and marines of the cruiser Dresden?

What of those repeated orders from President and State Department for Americans to flee from the oppressors, insulters and would-be murderers, and not an effort made to have our navy or our army to fly to the protection of these people who do no wrong, think no wrong, and yet are compelled to fly from bandits and cutthroats that but yesterday were patriots and upholders, in whose behalf the President raised the embargo on arms and allowed them to equip for their murderous work?

Is this statesmanship as it was of old?

Is this the best the Democratic administration can do for the American people in way of protecting its own people on this continent?

Is this Americanism in its noblest, best and most glorious form—the ideal form of every patria?

To the Enquirer it bears no trace of statesmanship; it lacks the vital spark of the spirit of the Democratic party; there is not a particle of Americanism to be found in this entire record of weakness, vacillation and sacrifice of our people.

RECORD OF THE PAST

No Stronger Evidence Can Be Had In Maysville

Look well to their record. What they have done many times in years gone by is the best guarantee of future results. Anyone with a bad back; any reader suffering from urinary troubles, from kidney ills, should find comforting words in the following statement.

Mrs. John Burns, Maysville, says: "I was subject to severe spells of backache and kidney trouble. They came on every three or six months and at times I was confined to bed and almost helpless. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they gave me quick benefit. Since then when I have noticed slight return attacks of backache, I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and they have never failed to quickly check the trouble."

OVER SEVEN YEARS LATER Mrs. Burns said: "The statement I gave before praising Doan's Kidney Pills still holds good. I know that this medicine acts as represented."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Burns has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Mrs. Rosa Schwartz, wife of George Schwartz, Sr., living near Augusta, died at 11 o'clock Sunday night from the effects of an acute attack of the grip. Mrs. Schwartz had been a sufferer from dropsy for the last two years and only recently returned from the Maysville hospital.

After all the frocks had been accounted for and the limit reached, two Brown county, Ohio, farmers now bring in two tailless calves.

SAID

another one of our satisfied customers last week:

"YOU CERTAINLY ARE

working to the interest of us Farmers this winter. I have never before been able to make as a sale on the Maysville market as I have this year. I see that by moving our loads from one house to another you are able to get us quicker sale and save us the expense of a day or two away from home. That is what we want. The saving on my expenses this year have more than paid my fees for selling with you. I like your present plan very much."

QUICK AND GOOD

We are doing just what this man said.

WORKING TO THE INTEREST OF THE FARMERS.

And we mean to keep it up and prove its truth to the satisfaction of all. Come and see how carefully we handle Tobacco. That is the reason we have been able to sell this

HIGHEST PRICED BASKET, HIGHEST PRICED CROP.

AVERAGE HIGHER THAN THE MARKET.

We are not in any "combine" of buyers and sellers of Tobacco and our Houses

ARE NOT RUN BY SPECULATORS.

We are working for the Growers and don't want to buy their Tobacco low so that we may sell it later at a profit.

Sunday school at 9:30 a. m. W. L. Stickleby superintendent.

Epworth League at 6:15 p. m. E. L. WILLIAMS, Pastor.

First M. E. Church, South. Sunday morning the pastor will bring the second in a series preparatory to the revival. He is especially anxious that all the membership hear these preparatory sermons. The morning service is at 10:45. At 7 o'clock in the evening the talk will be along evangelistic lines. Our congregations are unusually good during these winter months and we desire to make them count definitely, in the deepening of the spiritual life of the people. Pray for the services. Come in the spirit of prayer. We are expecting a great revival.

Sunday school at 9:30. League at 6:15. Mr. Andrew Moody leader.

W. B. CAMPBELL, Pastor.

Third Street M. E. Church. Services tomorrow at 10:45 a. m. and 7 p. m. Subject of morning sermon, "Jesus as a Friend;" evening, "Rejecting Jesus." Special music at both services. The solo and chorals: "My Father Watches Over Me;" Gabriel, will be sung by Miss Lillian Muse and the choir at the evening service. This service will be evangelistic; revival songs will be sung, and everything possible done to make the service helpful.

Sunday school at 9:30 a. m. The superintendent, Mr. I. M. Lane, has about recovered from his illness and expects to be with the school tomorrow. Let's give him a big attendance as a welcome back again.

The League service at 6:15 p. m. will be led by Miss Helen Naumae. A most cordial invitation is extended to everyone to attend all these services. Strangers welcomed.

J. M. LITERAL, Pastor.

Christian Church. The Bible school which meets at 9:30 a. m. should be attended by every scholar, young and old, to make certain that the aim for this month should be reached. We are attempting to keep the average attendance over 100. By a little extra effort on the part of those about last week this aim will be reached.

Endeavor service at 6 p. m. Live topics are discussed.

Church services at 10:45 and 7 conducted by the pastor. Morning theme, "Education and Consecration." Evening theme, "The Value of a Soul." The choir has special music for both services. Many strangers are in the congregation. Others are also invited to enjoy the services and worship with us. Those desiring to unite with this church may do so at either service. It is expected that there will be baptismal services at the opening of the morning church service.

A. F. STAHL, Pastor.

SEVERE PUNISHMENT

Of Mrs. Chappell, of Five Years' Standing, Relieved by Cardui.

Mrs. A. N. C.—Mrs. Sarah M. Chappell of this town, says: "I suffered for five years with womanly troubles, also stomach troubles, and my punishment was more than any one could tell."

I tried most every kind of medicine, but none did me any good.

I read one day about Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I decided to try it. I had not taken but about six bottles until I was almost cured. It did me more good than all the other medicines I had tried, put together.

My friends began asking me why I looked so well, and I told them about Cardui. Several are now taking it."

Do you, lady reader, suffer from any of the ailments due to womanly trouble, such as headache, backache, sideache, sleeplessness, and that everlasting tired feeling?

If so, let us urge you to give Cardui a trial. We feel confident it will help you, just as it has a million other women in the past half century.

Begin taking Cardui to-day. You won't regret it. All druggists.

HOW'S THIS?

The average on the 185,050 pounds we sold the past week was $11.65, while the whole market was $10.61.

Now, this $1.07 difference does not indicate that the Buyers (who are intelligent men) can be forced or persuaded into giving us that much advantage, but rather that our Tobacco was better than the average.

All we claim is that we try to prevent any crop or even basket from being neglected, and bid on it up to what we think its value, thus backing our judgment by taking all we bid off, giving the owner a clean sale.

Do you see any difference in this statement and some others you see in print.

SCHOOL BOARD WINS

Court of Appeals Reversed the Mason
Circuit Court on Important Suit.

The Court of Appeals decided Friday morning in favor of the Board of Education of Mason county in its suit to recover from Sheriff W. H. Mackey fees retained for collecting school tax.
The court held that his fees must come out of county funds and reversed the Mason Circuit Court.

SOME HOG.

John W. Neal, a well known famier of Piqua lake, near town, butchered a hog last week which was probably the largest porker here this season.
It was an O. I. C., lacked four days of being twenty months old, and weighed 655 pounds. It required some help to handle this hog. —Mt.

A WOMAN'S APPEAL

To all knowing sufferers of rheumatism, whether molecular or of the joints, sciatica, lumbago, backache, pain in the kidneys or neuralgia pains, to write to her for a home treatment which has repeatedly cured all of these troubles. She feels it her duty to send it to all sufferers. P.S. —
You cure yourself at home, as thousands will testify—no change of climate being necessary. This simple discovery lessens the pain, drives the blood, loosens the stiffened joints, purifies the blood and brightens the eyes, giving elasticity and tone to the whole system. If the above in-

EYE STRAIN

Should not be neglected, for it is the result of muscular effort to obtain clear vision in eyes which are defective. Glasses, correctly fitted, are a safe means of relief. If your eyes complain ever so little, have them examined, and the defect corrected. A little defect now might develop into a larger one later if neglected. We will examine your eyes and advise glasses only if glasses will benefit you. We will duplicate your broken lenses.
